Program Executive Officer (PEO) and Program Manager participation and interaction is a vital element of Showcase for Commerce.

PEOs have primary responsibility for a specific program (e.g., the Joint Strike Fighter) or for an entire portfolio of similar programs (e.g., Army PEO, Combat Support and Combat Service Support or the Navy PEO Ships). Showcase provides unique and individual access to these key decision makers in the United States military acquisition process.

In the plenary sessions, attendees will learn first-hand about the overall military programs and their challenges, how industry can help them, and specific guidance on how businesses can work with them. Program Managers will lead the breakout sessions that will provide more individual interaction and detailed information about the acquisition programs and their needs. These sessions offer a valuable opportunity to get a foot in the door with those overseeing major military programs.

22ND ANNUAL SHOWCASE for COMMERCE

Mark Critz
Member of Congress

The annual Showcase for Commerce is our region's opportunity to show off the talent of our hardworking employees and the success of our local businesses.

Now in its 22nd year, this event has grown from a small exhibition of area businesses to one of the largest government procurement expositions in the country, injecting more than $3 billion into the local economy.

Getting to this point wasn't easy.

Today's Showcase for Commerce is a true testament to the leadership of the late Congressman John P. Murtha and his determination to diversify our region's economy from mills and mines to defense, health care, technology, research and development, tourism, and manufacturing.

The 150-plus businesses and organizations represented at Showcase for Commerce are here because they know that doing business in western Pennsylvania makes good business sense. They get quality work, on-time delivery, and competitive pricing – which is why our region has become a magnet for businesses both here in the United States and across the globe.

But Showcase for Commerce is more than just an exhibition – it's a networking opportunity for businesses looking to expand, looking for suppliers, or just looking to be part of the synergy happening across our region. No matter your intentions, the business-to-business relationships that companies build while at Showcase produce real results.

Don't just walk through the Showcase for Commerce. Experience it. Watch the demonstrations, talk to the exhibitors, make contacts, learn, and most of all, enjoy yourself. You'll be glad that you came.

22ND ANNUAL SHOWCASE for COMMERCE

Edward J. Sheehan, Jr.
Chairman
Showcase for Commerce

On behalf of the Showcase for Commerce 2012 Governing Committee, I would like to welcome you to a unique gathering that offers tremendous opportunities in the defense industry for business and government representatives.

Showcase has developed into a nationally renowned defense contracting expo where regional, national, and multi-national companies connect with each other and key government decision makers. Showcase is the event to demonstrate technology and manufacturing solutions for critical defense and warfighter needs.

Showcase provides an opportunity to interact with major players in defense contracting at the same time – at one event. Many people are familiar with the Showcase exhibition, which features more than 150 participants from diverse industries. Among the exhibitors are major defense firms seeking qualified subcontractors and suppliers.

In addition to establishing valuable business relationships, attendees have special access to key defense industry decision makers. We are very pleased to offer briefings and breakout sessions with Program Managers and Program Executive Officers (PEOs) who oversee major military programs that represent billions of dollars in funding. Attendees can also learn how to negotiate the government procurement process, as well as meet one-on-one with government industry buyers.

Another key component to Showcase's success is the participation of Senior Congressional Leaders who engage with attendees and learn about their organizations' capabilities, sharing their issues and concerns at a critical time in the Federal budget process.

Showcase is, indeed, unique. We are proud of what it has become and the major impact it has had in meeting the needs of the warfighter. We welcome you and wish you much success.
